MLM GATEWAY REVIEWS

The use of lead generation companies for small businesses is the best way for someone serious about making money in MLM to succeed, but the question is will the MLM gateway platform do the job?

I have been personally using MLM gateway for quite a while and believe that a review was on the cards. Some of my downline in doTERRA have started using this platform while others are still using the more traditional methods have not. I have found that the latter network marketer feels that MLM gateway would be useful for their businesses. At the same time they are the ones that believe as I do that the internet is a future marketing tool for MLM.

MLM gateway simply offers the network marketing professional as well as someone new to the industry the ability to connected with other leaders around the world.

SO, WHY IS THAT SO IMPORTANT?

If you have been in network marketing for a short time and have enrolled a small downline it is likely that you have hit a wall. You have realized that not everyone in your downline are as excited and passionate as you are. Some of your downline just get on with building their business, while others realize that running a home business is a bit more work than they originally believed. The main issue is recruiting and prospecting.

01 What do you do when you have spoken to all your family and friends?

02 How do you speak to prospects outside your social circle?

03 How do you find people who are as passionate about network marketing as you are?

04 How do you find MLM leaders?

These are the type of questions I hear almost everyday. Getting the word out about your products or business opportunity can be difficult if you haven't got a recruitment system in place or a list of excited network marketers hungry for success.

THE SAD REALITY OF THE FAMILY AND FRIENDS MLM LEAD GENERATING METHOD

Unfortunately, within your group of family and friends there are only a few people that will be interested in what you have to offer.

That is a fact!

About 20 years ago, I was asked to write down my prospect list as many before me. I had over 200 names. Surely someone would be interested in working with me or buying my products. Sadly, one reluctantly purchased some products and one joined my business and then bitched and complained until they stopped speaking to me.

Well, I recall my enroller telling me that I only needed to enroll 3 people to my business. What he should have said was that, "I needed to enroll 3 leaders". Enrolling anybody who wants to join your business is fine. However, for your business to grow and for you to earn good money, enrolling leaders is the key to success.

WHO ARE THE BEST TYPE OF PEOPLE TO JOIN YOUR BUSINESS?

I run much of my MLM business online and I have found the best partners are:

- Those who reach out to me
- Those who are excited and passionate about running a business from home
- Those who have already been in network marketing
- Those who are self starters
- Those who are already running a business
- Those who are online or digital marketers
- Those who see themselves as leaders

This is why, MLM gateway is a great platform for building a network marketing business. MLM gateway is filled with people from all over the world passionate about MLM. Everyone on the platform is in different stages of their business. Some are looking for something new, while others are looking for a second or third stream income. At the same time other members are pitching their own business opportunity in a completely passive way, so you don't feel that it is a hard sale.

Conclusion to MLM lead generating review

I personally use all forms of lead generation for my business. I try new ones all the time and if they work and are simple to use I add them to my list of tools and services. If not I let it go and find something new. MLM gateway is an exception, because it is simple and it worked and you can't ask more than that.
